

About our group:

- We are group of developers and technologists volunteers. (We are not directly affiliated with Google)
- We welcome diversity - our events are open to all skill levels, and various technologies
- Over +5,000 meetup members

Why should you support us?

- Connect with attendees at a high-level developer event
- Brand yourself and your products as community-friendly
- Endless appreciation from the event organizers and attendees

International Women's Day Event

Saturday, March 17, 2018

Galvanize 44 Tehama St, San Francisco, CA 94105

IWD is a large, community-run event that offers speaker sessions on Technology and Professional & Personal Development. It is an event that is targeted at developers and technologist who are powered by a shared belief that when developers come together to exchange ideas amazing things can happen. The speakers will be women and non-binary people in tech who want to inspire, educate and connect!

SWAG

We are seeking swag to provide during our event. Swag can include any of the following: stickers, pens, shirts, mugs, or any other items. You can arrange pick up of items with our SWAG Coordinator.

General Monetary Sponsorship Packages

We have several packages predefined, however, we are able to customize them per sponsor to be able to hit their focus.

Level	Logo	Vendor Space	Speaker Session
Local Sponsor $500	On website
Partner $1000	On website & t-shirt*
Silver $2000	On website & t-shirt*	Yes
Gold $3000	On website, t-shirt* and Welcome & Closing slides	Yes	1
Platinum $4000	Same as Gold, but proportionally larger	Yes	2

* T-shirts have already been purchased

Sponsorships are not limited to monetary support. Swag, prizes for hackathon and raffles are encouraged.

If you have any question please contact us at: san.francisco.gdg@gmail.com